DETAILED ACTION

Non-Final Rejection

Election/Restriction

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Species B, Fig 4-5, and claims 1-8, is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 3, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. Claims, elected for prosecution, are confusing and are not clear because claimed limitations, (claim 3, the interlocking fit is created by pressure applied by the inner layer onto the outer skin, wherein the pressure from the inner layer deforms the outer skin at the recess against the second car body part), are not shown in the figures and/or lacks support in the specification and therefore fails to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. These limitations must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). Applicant is requested to go through the application and ensure that the claimed matter has been described in the specification and shown in the drawing in such a way as to convey to one skilled in the art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3, 5-6, 8, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jacobsen et al. (4,792,180).

Regarding claims 1-3, 5-6, 8, Jacobsen et al. (4,792,180) discloses in Fig. 1-3 the invention as claimed to include a first body part of the roof having an outer skin 12, 16, formed of at least partially deformable material, said outer skin having a recess, Fig 2, an inner layer 56, and a second car body part 42 placed in the recess, wherein the second car body part is anchored in the recess by an interlocking fit between the recess and the second car body part, an edge portion 50, one anchoring protrusion 52.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 4, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jacobsen et al. (4,792,180) and in view of ordinary skill in the art.

Regarding claim 4, 7, Jacobsen et al. (4,792,180) discloses the invention as claimed.

However, Jacobsen et al. (4,792,180) does not disclose that the inner layer is reinforced with glass fiber and the outer skin is made of plastic.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to reinforce the inner layer with glass fiber and the outer skin is made of plastic, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice to increase the strength of the inner layer and avoid corrosion problems.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record in attached Notice of Reference Cited (PTO-892) and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. This art of record shows various features similar to the applicant's invention.
